ORANGEVILLE.

Items of Interest About the Nob Mountain Borough--Its Schools, Churches, Business Men and Industrial Enterprises.

Six miles north of Bloomsburg, nestled among the hills at the foot of Nob Mountain, lies the pretty village of Orangeville. It is located near Fishing Creek, and is on the line of the Bloomsburg & Sullivan Railroad which connects with the D. L. & W. and Philadelphia & Reading Railroads at Bloomsburg; and the C. P. & W. Railroad which connects with the Pennsylvania system at Watsontown, thus affording it excellent shipping facilities. The original proprietor of the land where Orangeville now stands was Clemuel G. Ricketts, who opened a store there in 1822. He was a man of culture, and traveled extensively in the Orient, and published an interesting book narrating what he saw there. He was a brother of Elijah G. Ricketts, in his day one of the leading men of that section. Elijah was the father of Col. R. Bruce Ricketts of Wilkes-Barre and Col. W. W. Ricketts and Frank Ricketts. Col. R. B. Ricketts made a proud record for himself in the civil war, as an officer of Battery F, 43rd Regiment. Col. W. W. Ricketts went out with the famous Iron Guards in 1861, and was soon made Colonel of his regiment. He died at his father's house in Orangeville in 1862.

Frank Ricketts, for many years the proprietor of the Ganoga Lake Hotel, now resides in Orangeville, where he conducts the Ricketts House, a most delightful resort. The building is one of the prettiest in the village, the exterior with its pretty surroundings more like a country seat than a hotel, while the interior is handsomely furnished and complete in all its appointments.

As to the settlement of Orangeville Freeze's History says:

"Although the first store was opened in Orangeville in 1822 the place was settled very much earlier. Mr. John McHenry, an old and respected citizen who died in Benton township, March 17, 1868, at the age of 82 years, 6 months and 4 days, and who was born at Stillwater, a few miles above Orangeville, in the year 1785, says that at the time of his birth, two or three shanties stood where Orangeville now stands. Mr. McHenry was the first white child born north of Orange on the famous Fishingcreek, and he spent his whole long life upon its waters. He was a most successful and accomplished hunter, and killed during his career more than two thousand deer. He was what was called a still hunter. No dogs ever tracked the game through the forest for him. A nice ear, a quick eye and an unerring rifle made success certain. Although deer were his principal sport, yet all kinds of game, especially wild turkeys, were among those whose chase was most exciting, and whose capture was most satisfactory, on account of the delicious flavor of the flesh, as well as the skill required to secure them."

SCHOOLS.

Orangeville's educational facilities have always been good. At one time the Orangeville Male and Female Academy had quite a reputation. It was incorporated by an act of Assembly of March 11, 1858, and was conducted by well-known educators of that day. After a somewhat checkered career it was abandoned as an academy, and the building is now occupied by the public school with three grades, high school, secondary and primary departments.

CHURCHES.

There are three church buildings. The Presbyterians have a pretty brick structure, in charge of Rev. James Martyn. The Methodist church, also of brick, is under the pastoral care of Rev. John Grimes. The Union church, used by the Lutheran and Reformed congregations conjointly, is now undergoing extensive repairs. The floor has been relaid, and the interior arrangement will be entirely changed. The pulpit, formerly located near the entrance, will be placed at the other end of the church, and new pews will replace the old ones. Rev. E. A. Sharretts serves the Lutherans and Rev. A. Houtz ministers to the Reformed congregation.

HOTELS.

Three good public houses furnish accommodations for the traveling public. The old brick hotel, kept for many years by Samuel Hagenbuch, is now owned and conducted by J. W. Turner. The Heckman house was formerly known as the Snyder stand, and was the property of the late John Snyder who was its landlord for a long time. Frank Ricketts, at the Ricketts House, furnishes unusual accomodation for private parties rather than for the general public. The old Unangst stand has not been licensed for some years, and is used as a private residence.

BUSINESS HOUSES.

There are a number of well appointed general stores. Among them are ex-county treasurer G. W. Fleckenstine, A. M. DeWitt, and E. H. Sloan. J. B. Harman has a well stocked drug store, and C. M. Cooke deals in groceries. Amos Neyhard keeps furniture, tinware, etc., and conducts an undertaking establishment. Customers for stoves and kindred goods can be supplied by J. B. Delong, G. N. Smith, or C. E. Hutton, and M. L. Kline deals in harness etc. H. B. Low has a coal yard, and also sells fertilizer, seeds, grain and ties.

Those in need of a physician's services are attended by Dr. G. L. Jolly or Dr. Vance. For the first time in some years Orangeville has a resident lawyer in the person of Clinton Herring, son of A. B. Herring. He is a bright young man, recently admitted to the bar. His home is in Orangeville, and his office there is open on Wednesdays. The rest of the week he is in Bloomsburg, where he has an office with Hon. Grant Herring.

Although not actually engaged in business at present, Capt. H. J. Conner is one of Orangeville's most useful residents. He is a justice of the peace a director of the B. & S. R. R. Co., also secretary; and a director of the Bloomsburg National Bank. His military record is one that he is justly proud of.

LODGES.

The following secret societies have organizations in Orangeville: Masons, Odd Fellows, American Mechanics, and Pealer Post G. A. R.

INDUSTRIES.

F. W. Jones & Co., occupy the shoe factory building where they manufacture soles and heels. A number of hands are employed.

In the same building C. B. White has a creamery. He makes about 600 pounds of butter a week, and his product meets with ready sale. Much of it is sent to Philadelphia.

The farm implement factory of J. W. Conner is the largest industry in Orangeville. It consists of several large buildings, and has a foundry, machine shop, planing mill, paint shop, office, and other departments. A handsome illustrated catalogue just issued by him shows that he is manufacturing plows, harrows, threshing machines, horse powers, separators, circular saws, cleaners, and nearly all kinds of farm machinery. He has also a general line of repairs. An ingenious little machine made by him is a harness riveter. It is small, but a very handy thing for every owner of a harness to have. With it a broken strap can be mended quickly and surely. It is just as good for mending belts or any kind of leather. Mr. Conner is a hustler, and his business has grown rapidly in a few years past, and is still growing. He employs twenty hands now, mostly skilled labor. Such industries as his are a benefit to any community.

THE BOROUGH.

A petition was presented to the court on December 4, 1899, asking that the village of Orangeville be incorporated into a borough, which was ordered filed, and published for thirty days before February court. On February 5, 1900, the court made a

MEETING OF SYNOD

Composed of Evangelical Lutheran Churches of Five Counties in Session at the Lutheran Church.

Many Notable Divines In Attendance.

The thirty-third annual convention of the Susquehanna Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church convened in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Market street, this town, Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. U. Myers of Catawissa, the President of Synod, from II Timothy, 3 : 16. The roll was called by the Secretary, Rev. A. O. Mullen, of Watsontown, and about 40 ministers and delegates responded. It is expected that about 110 persons will be here in attendance upon the Sessions of the Synod, covering a territory of about six counties and reaching from Jersey Shore on the West Branch, to Scranton on the North Branch, and up to Bradford county on the north.

The work of the Synod in its sessions is mainly the transaction of business in connection with the affairs of the church.

The evening are devoted to sermons or addresses by prominent members of the Synod, on matters pertaining to the educational or mission work, &c. These meetings are all open to the public and are entirely free to all. It is to be hoped that the people will turn out and hear and enjoy what is said and done. The Synod will continue in session until Sabbath evening at least, closing with the solemn services of ordination.

The Synod convened Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, and was opened with devotional exercises, led by Rev. J. B. Lake, D. D. of Montgomery, Pa., followed by the reception of delegates, and commissioners and organization.

The afternoon session was taken up largely with Synodical business. The treasurer of the Synod, Mr. George Deppen of Sunbury, made a very satisfactory report of the financial affairs. Several reports were heard from the educational and charitable institutions of the church.

Dr. Macknight of Pennsylvania College gave a cheering report of the work of that institution. Rev. F. P. Manhart of Baltimore spoke earnestly of the work of the Deaconess Mother Home of that city, and Rev. Dr. L. E. Albert gave a pathetic statement of the needs of the Pastor's Fund for old and disabled Ministers, stating that more than 100,000 dollars had passed through his hands during his term of office and the appreciation of those helped was delightful. Reports on the state of religion by the pastors were very encouraging.

At the close of the afternoon session a reception was tendered the visiting clergymen by the ladies of the church, in the Sunday School room to which the ministers of town were invited. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Sunday School orchestra. There was a large and beautiful display of plants and cut flowers. The affair was happily presided over by Rev. U. Myers of Catawissa, Pa., President of the Synod. After a reception, "The Creed of the Bells" by Mrs. Grant Herring, in the rendition of which she displayed rare elocutionary talent. Toasts were given and responded to as follows: "Our Church," Rev. J. M. Ansbach D. D. of Williamsport; "The Sunday School" Rev. E. A. Sharretts, of Fowlersville; "Our Clergy," Rev. C. W. Hosler, President of Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, and "Our Laity," by Geo. B. Reimensnyder, Esq. of Sunbury.

The evening session was in the nature of an address on education by Rev. Prof. O. G. Klinger of Gettysburg College. Rev. Dr. J. Wagner presided and read the Liturgical Service, assisted by Rev's. Lohr of Williamsport and Brosius of Sunbury. The address was very fine and intensely logical.

The program for the remainder of the Synod is as follows:

THIRD DAY, THURSDAY, MAY 10th.

MORNING SESSION—9.00.

Half hour Devotional Exercises, led by Rev. J. B. Focht, D. D., of Selins Grove, Pa.

THE CIVIC CLUB.

Bloomsburg Ladies Meet at the Tabernacle and Form a Society for Village Improvement.

Officers Elected and Constitution to be Adopted.

Pursuant to a call, sixty ladies met at the Tabernacle last Saturday afternoon to organize a Civic Club. The object is for improvement along many lines that affect the public welfare. Mrs. C. W. McKelvy was elected chairman, and Mrs. I. K. Miller stated the object of the meeting. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Margaret P. Meigs; Vice Presidents, Library Department, Miss Waller; Educational, Miss Breece; Charity, Mrs. H. Mont. Smith; Municipal, Mrs. Judge Ikeler; Town Improvement, Mrs. J. G. Harman; Home, Mrs. J. D. Hummer; Secretary, Mrs. Carlton A. Caswell; Treasurer, Mrs. Geo. S. Robbins; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Anna Leveritt.

The following directors were elected: Mrs. H. H. Grotz, Mrs. R. F. Colley, Miss Unangst, Mrs. G. E. Elwell, Miss Esther Cohen, Miss Margaret Casey, Mrs. W. H. Slate, Mrs. M. I. Caswell, Mrs. O. W. Cherrington, Mrs. J. J. Brown, Mrs. Agnes Smith, Miss Vance. A meeting of the Directors will be held at Miss Waller's on Saturday, May 12, to frame a constitution, and the next regular meeting of the club will be held in the Tabernacle on May 19th, at 3 o'clock.

Membership dues are, for active members 50 cents a year, and $1.00 for honorary members. Such an organization is capable of doing much good, and it should receive liberal encouragement.

MUSICAL RECITALS.

A series of music recitals will be given in the Normal Auditorium by the students of the Music Department, beginning on Monday evening, May 14, when Miss Mary Bogenrief and Miss Hettie Cope will appear in a pianoforte and voice recital. On May 21st, the performers will be Miss Mary Albert and Miss Hester Burr Lewis. On May 24th, Miss Ethel Hartman, Miss Edith Maize and Miss Julia Sharpless. On June 1st, Miss Margaret Evans and Miss Martha Nash. On June 8th, Miss Grace Housel and Miss Florence Stump. Excellent programs have been arranged and the selections will be enjoyed by all lovers of music. This department has reached a high standard.

Normal School Election.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bloomsburg Normal School, last Monday, the following persons were elected trustees for the next three years: John Wolf, L. E. Waller, N. U. Funk and P. E. Wirt. They have all been trustees for some years past, so there is no change in the board. C. W. Miller, C. C. Peacock, F. P. Pursel and J. G. Wells were nominated as trustees on the part of the state, and from these the Superintendent of Public Instruction will select two to serve for three years. Messrs. Miller and Peacock are the old members, and will probably be re-appointed.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The annual convention of the Diocese of Central Pennsylvania, will be held at St. Luke's Church, Scranton, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 15th and 16th. The division of the diocese will be one of the most important matters before it. St. Paul's Church of this town will be represented by the Rector, Rev. D. N. Kirkby, Col J. G. Freeze, Chancellor of the Diocese, and lay deputies, John R. Townsend, Paul E. Wirt, Geo. S. Robbins and Geo. E. Elwell.

Going to Italy.

Signorina Rubina Ravi, of the Normal School, shortly after Commencement, will leave for her home in Florence, Italy. She will be accompanied by Miss Vida Bowman, also of the Normal music department, and Miss Hettie Cope, all of whom will take a course in music before returning home.

DOBLEY'S KILLING PACE

Revealed When His Wife Used Cook-Book Prescriptions.

"I DON'T know why it is, said Mr. Dobley, as he pushed away his untasted breakfast, "but I feel a presentiment that I am going to be ill."

"You never looked better in your life," said Mrs. Dobley. "Don't give in to any such idea. It's simply nervousness."

"That's it," said Dobley. "My nerves are running away with me. They are at a tension which threatens a sudden collapse. I start at the least sound. I wake with the bells ringing in my ears and feel as though a vise were gripping my head. It's been that way now for three days."

"It's those late suppers of yours," said Mrs. Dobley. "You would require the digestion of an ostrich to consume such combinations as you have been addicted to of late."

"Nonsense, Mrs. Dobley; my symptoms have nothing about them which indicates that the trouble is a simple one, which might be removed by bicarbonate of soda and seltzer. It's located here, Mrs Dobley." Dobley tapped his brow mysteriously.

"Perhaps a headache?" suggested Mrs. Dobley.

"No; it's the rush of modern life," said Dobley. "It's the pace at which people must live nowadays. We're all in a race—trying to see which of us can push on fastest to the grave!"

"Dear me!" said Mrs. Dobley. "I felt sure that the fricasseed crab meat in a chafing dish and the Welsh rabbit you had last night would affect your liver, and now I'm sure of it. Either one alone is bad enough, but when you combine the two—it is simply dreadful!"

"It is not the liver, Mrs. Dobley, it is the brain. I have a confused sensation as though the optic nerve had gotten tangled with the spinal cord. Then there is a singing in the ears with a tingling feeling in the temples, and shooting pains in the back of the neck."

"They have an excellent Household Medical Guide in the back of this," she said, as she skimmed over the leaves.

"Have you had dizzy spells and hallucinations, with loss of appetite and a distaste for exertion?" she asked, reading from one of the pages.

"Exactly," said Dobley. "I feel as though my head weighed a ton, and when I attempt to walk the effort of placing one foot before the other seems to completely exhaust my vitality. The very thought of taking another step is weakening."

"How about chills with sudden flushes of heat, sallow complexion and a yellowish tinge to the whites of the eyes?" asked Mrs. Dobley, anxiously.

"All of those," said Dobley. "I tell you, Mrs. Dobley, I am threatened with a serious collapse. I have been working too hard."

"You have the grip," said Mrs. Dobley, firmly, closing the book, "and you must not think of going downtown today. Simply telephone to the office that you are ill, and take a day of quiet rest at home. I will fix up some remedies that will break up your cold, for really grip is only an exaggerated cold. And the rest will do you good."

"I haven't taken a day's holiday in years," said Dobley. "I don't think it would agree with me to stay home. I'd fancy I heard the ticker calling me or imagine the office was on fire, or something."

"Now, you go upstairs and get into a smoking jacket and slippers, and, first of all, I will fix up something that you can eat. I will prepare it myself!" said Mrs. Dobley, who had little or no opportunity to put her nursing abilities in evidence owing to her husband's continual good health. She acted as though it were going to be a genuine pleasure to have an invalid on her hands for a day.

An hour later Dobley was wrapped in an eiderdown quilt, with a flaxseed poultice on his chest and a wet towel about his head. Mrs. Dobley said she had taken his temperature and declared that it was more than a hundred, so she decided that it was better for the invalid not to eat anything.

So a very tempting broiled chicken with currant jelly, buttered toast and tea was taken downstairs before Dobley's eyes, although he explained that he had had the first symptoms of real appetite that he had experienced for three days. Then Mrs. Dobley made him take a dose of some disagreeable mixture and put a piece of ice on his head. Dobley had just become eagerly interested in a new novel when she took it away and said that it would only upset his nerves to read it, and she even removed the newspapers and read him one of Mrs. Heman's poems.

"I am bound that you'll have one day of perfect rest, John," she said. "You have positively alarmed me as to the condition of your health."

"Already I feel much better," said Dobley. "I suppose my state of nervousness made me exaggerate the symptoms. Do you know, my dear, I think I should enjoy some toast and tea—and chicken. And perhaps a small piece of steak, also. I don't know whether it is the poultice or the ice on my head, but my appetite has returned."

"But the book says: 'On no account allow the patient to eat while the fever rages.' I might fetch you some milk and lime water if you think you could stand it."

"I have no yearning for it," said Dobley, "and my fever has subsided. I have an idea that I shall bring all my strength of will to my aid and go down to the office after all. It makes me feel foolish to sit here done up in this way."

"But your nerves have quieted down—don't you see what a different person you are to the Mr. Dobley who complained at the breakfast table this morning? How is the singing in your ears?"

"Never a song," said Dobley. "Nothing disturbs the quiet but the dull drip of the ice upon my collar. How long do I have to balance this berg on my head? By the way, Mrs. Dobley, I feel sufficiently frapped now, for my own part. But I don't want to interfere with the original recipe. You are sure you have not gotten me mixed up with a dessert?"

"The ice must be renewed at frequent intervals," said Mrs. Dobley. "It's the greatest thing in the world for the nerves. I have sent out to get an extra supply."

"And the embalming process that is at present going on over my wishbone?" asked Dobley. "Is there any special time at which it may be removed, or is it one of those perpetual blooms that become part of one's very existence? The freezing of the head and the boiling of the chest simultaneously is a great idea for taking the mind off business troubles. It is impossible for one to worry about the price of gas stock with these two restoratives in operation."

"That's it," said Mrs. Dobley. "It's the counter-irritant that cures. I'll venture to say that you have no symptoms of tired feeling at present. You said this morning that you couldn't put one foot before the other."

"I feel now," said Dobley, "that if I could shed these various glaciers and volcanoes that you have surrounded me with I could sprint around a cinder path in time to music. About this time, as a rule, I am going out to luncheon when I am downtown. What a terrible thing it would be to be condemned to stay at home doing nothing every day! It would drive me crazy in about 48 hours."

"But, like all New Yorkers, you are fond of talking about the nervous strain caused by the rush we live in, the noise, the elevated cars and all that, when in reality you couldn't live in any other atmosphere or environment!"

"They say," said Dobley, shifting the ice so that it would melt equally over both sides of his neck, "they say there are microbes in the New York air that are different from the germs that exist in the atmosphere of other cities. I suppose we get accustomed to absorbing these particular ones, and we get to like them. If a New Yorker found himself in a quiet country place with no prospect of getting back to Broadway and the Bowery he would think the roar of the elevated the sweetest music in the world!"

"But he would begin talking about the terrible strain he lived under just as soon as he got back to town."

"It's artificial, but then we are fond of gilding and show in every department. Take our restaurants—and, talking about restaurants, Mrs. Dobley, I am of the opinion that I should feel much better if I were allowed the excitement of a few lamb chops just at this moment. I feel a peculiar gnawing—"

"I think you'd better have a fresh poultice," said Mrs. Dobley. "You lose the effects of those poultices unless they are changed quite often."

"I won't worry if I lose the effect," said Mr. Dobley. "There is something about a poultice that seems somehow humiliating to me. Modern medical authorities laugh at poultices. They say never put a poultice on anything but a barn door—but your little book, 'Helpful Hints for the Kitchen,' advocates them strongly, I see."

"There is nothing like a poultice," said Mrs. Dobley.

"No," replied her husband, sadly, "it occupies a niche all by itself; it's a solitaire in the scheme of life. It's a clammy, clinging amalgamation of exclusiveness."

"I can see that you feel better already," said Mrs. Dobley. "I can always tell when you begin joking that you are really happy."

"Happiness is a big word," said Dobley, adjusting the drip to a point just above his left ear. "I've been happier than I am at this moment, and yet I have been more unhappy! There is a certain repose about the feeling that a piece of ice on the head gives one. Then, the mere fact of having had nothing to eat for a number of hours has a chastening influence that cannot be denied."

"Do you really think you could stand some breakfast?" asked Mrs. Dobley. "I am a little bit afraid to go contrary to the directions."

"Mrs. Dobley," said that lady's husband, with dignity, "I absolutely refuse to be confused with the methods for cooking which are contained in that useful volume you hold. It may be all right regarding things that are to be set in a cool place and fanned until frozen, and it also gives you thorough and efficient modes for driving out red ants, but I am prepared to have some breakfast, and I would like the customary meal of steak, chops and soft-boiled eggs that are served previous to executions of death sentences."

"I don't believe that you are ill at all," said Mrs. Dobley.

"I merely complained of nervousness," said Dobley, "and I must admit that this quiet, restful morning, in conjunction with the somewhat rigid rules prescribed in the 'Kitchen Hints' has completely restored me to my normal state of health. I am now prepared to shed my various wraps, pillows, poultices and glaciers, to have breakfast and to proceed to my daily toil."

"Oh, you can't go now!" said Mrs. Dobley. "I telephoned them that you were very ill. Suppose we go to a matinee?"

"Which is a thought born of an intelligence of marked superiority," said Dobley. "Let us get back to our usual gait—the pace may be killing—but we can't get along without our microbes."—N. Y. Sun.

It Wasn't Safe.

"Your success," said the practical politician to the man who wanted to run for office, "will depend a great deal on the ward in which you acquire a residence. With which nationality are you the stronger—the Irish or the Germans?"

"Why," replied the candidate for office, "I think I stand best with the Americans."

"No chance for you, then," replied the practical politician. "They seldom vote."—Chicago Post.

"The Strength of Twenty Men."—When Shakespeare employed this phrase he referred, of course, to healthy, able-bodied men. If he had lived in these days he would have known that men and women who are not healthy may become so by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine, by making the blood rich and pure and giving good appetite and perfect digestion, imparts vitality and strength to the system.

TRY GRAIN-O! TRY GRAIN-O!—Ask your grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made of pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c. and 25c. per package. Sold by all grocers. 4 26 4td

The very people who talk about "vulgar trade" are usually the ones who never pay their bills.

Westfield, Mass., Nov. 27, 1899
The Genessee Pure Food Co., LeRoy, N.Y.:
Gentlemen—Having used your Grain-O for the past three months I thought I would write and let you know how much good it has done me. When I was away on my vacation last summer the people I visited asked me to try some Grain-O, and I drank some, but I didn't like it at all, but the more I drank it the better I liked it, and now I wouldn't drink anything else. I never weighed over 105 pounds and last winter I was down to 103 pounds, and now I weigh just 120, and I never felt better in my life. It gives me an awful appetite, and makes me strong. It is doing me more good than anything I ever took, and I would recommend it to everybody. Yours truly,
Mrs George R. Brown.

RELIEF IN SIX HOURS.—Distressing kidney and bladder diseases relieved in six hours by "New Great South American Kidney Cure." It is a great surprise on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in bladder, kidneys and back, in male or female. Relieves retention of water almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is the remedy. Sold by C. A. Kleim, druggist, 128 W. Main St., Bloomsburg, Pa. 4 26 1y.

It's natural that a girl who bleaches her hair should wear lilacs.

The publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., tell us Biggle Cow Book is most elaborately and beautifully illustrated in wood engraving, in half tone and in color work; and the type, press work and binding are simply superb. Eight of the principal breeds are shown in colors true to life by a first-class artist. No expense has been spared on these portraits, and they must certainly gratify and please. There are twenty-six chapters covering the whole ground of the dairy. Those on Ailments and Remedies are worth the price of the book to any one owning even a small dairy. The villager with one cow will find the work a great help. The creamery chapter is up to date, and will certainly interest many. It is an up to date book, and should form part of the library of every progressive farmer and cow owner in the United States. It contains 144 pages of type matter, and 130 beautiful illustrations. It is handsomely bound in cloth. The price is 50 cents, by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

Prof. Coles for May.

Let all the people in America rejoice and be glad, for the month of May will be a great "high flood" month and prosperity will rule in spite of all the afflictions that the jealous "low-ebb" vital forces may choose to send upon her! The greater part of the month will be fair and lovely; but the planets are in position to give us some unprecedented storms; resulting in destructive floods. Snow storms and hail storms may surprise us all; as the sun's magnetic and electric focus will be interferred with by the sleet-king planets and cause severe electrical storms, seismic disturbances and volcanic activity in the earth. Watch out for strange phenomena, as the plannetts will be in a very unusual position this month. About the middle of the month Venus, Earth, Jupiter, and Uranus, will make a perfect right angle with Mars, Mercury and the Sun, while Neptune and Saturn will be in conjunction with each other and the Sun. On the 27th, the Earth passes between the sun and the great planet Jupiter; and on the 28th, the eclipse will appear; therefore, it will be well for us to keep a watchful eye upon the "weather" and upon our "finance," as unusual disturbances may be looked for during the middle and the latter part of the month.

Never Satisfied.

None are satisfied. One man is struggling to get justice, some others are flying from it. One man is trying to build a house, another is trying to get rid of it. One man is spending all that he earns in taking his girl to the theatre, in hopes of eventually making her his wife, while his neighbor is spending all the gold he has to get a divorce. The eastern man wants to go west and the western man wants to go east. The farmer wants to go into the city and the city man wants to go into the country. The man in trade wants to get out and everybody not in trade wants to be. The old wants to be young and the young want to be old.

A Sad Truth.

An exchange says that gossip has made manny a home a hell on earth; gossip has parted husbands and wives; gossip has blackened and sullied the character of many poor girls; gossip has parted lovers who would have been very happy if it had not been for gossip. One little misstep or one little indiscretion will cause gossip to arise with new strength and start on her mission. Her, did we say? We ought not to, for we have our male gossipers, and as a rule they are ten times more venomous than a female. A good, healthy man gossiper is about as low and dangerous as the meanest thing on earth.

THE KILLING OF WHALES.

There Is Little of Excitement or Danger in the Pursuit as It Is Now Carried On.

Dr. Frederick W. True, of the Smithsonian institution, who has just spent two months in whale hunting in Green bay, on the northeastern coast of Newfoundland, reports an interesting experience. He was sent out by the institution to study the fishback whale and of the 98 animals caught all but 11 were of this variety. The story-book romance has gone entirely out of whaling as pursued by the Newfoundlanders. There is no frail whaleboat, with the grizzled old harpooner in the bow to strike the whale, but instead a little steam craft and a powerful gun.

The gun throws a large iron harpoon, with crossarms which lie against the shaft until it strikes a solid body and then project out and imbed themselves. The head of this harpoon is cigar-shaped and sharp-pointed and explodes as it strikes the whale's side, generating a gas which serves to keep the fish afloat after the wrecking effect of the shock on its internal organs has left it a lifeless mass. A stout rope is attached to the butt of the harpoon, and by this the whale is kept in leash as it threshes madly through the water in a vain effort to escape its unknown enemy. Death rapidly ensues, unless, as sometimes happens, the projectile goes through the fish from side to side, when a second shot is necessary.

A DOG'S SUPPLICATIONS.

The Intelligent Little Pet Wanted the Satchel to Get Off the Slipper.

"Mike is the name of a little gray, silky haired spaniel, whose home is on Maryland avenue, and he is a most cunning and amusing animal, and as wise as it is possible that a little dog can be, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. His mistress has taught him many tricks. He can tell you what he does when the policeman comes, playing dead dog, and he can call his mistress when the telephone bell rings, and is altogether a delightful dog.

He has been taught to beg for things, and his begging looks for all the world like coaxing, so cunningly is it done. The other day his mistress sent him upstairs to get her slippers. He came down presently with one, and she sent him back for the other, but again he returned without it.

"He was sent back, and this time he stayed so long that his mistress went upstairs herself to see what was keeping him. A heavy satchel had fallen upon the slipper, and the little dog, after trying in vain to move it, sat on his hind legs, with his little paws raised in supplication, hoping that he might persuade the satchel to get off the slipper. He probably was convinced that his prayer was efficacious when his mistress lifted the hindrance.

NEW CALENDAR PROPOSED.

Russian Astronomers Are Anxious to Have the World Adopt a New System.

The chronological disagreement between Russia and all the great nations of Europe owing to the retention of the Julian calendar has become an increasing nuisance in proportion as Russia's relations, especially commercially, with western Europe have continued to increase.

Hitherto the Russian calendar has been 12 days behind. This week it drops another day behind, and accordingly Prof. Glazenap and a committee of the Russian Astronomical society have elaborated an entirely new calendar, which, it is hoped, will be universally adopted. This calendar provides a common year of exactly 365 days and leap year of 366 days. This system is so near the real solar year that no more than one day's difference can occur in 100,000 years.

If the Protestant states in the west do not adopt this system Russia, instead of 13 days behind, will be one day in advance now and two days in advance for 1920. The committee proposes also the rechristening of March to "Peace," in honor of The Hague conference.

IN UNUSUAL DEMAND.

Many Passports Issued to Foreign-Born Americans Who Are Going Abroad.

An unusually large number of passports are being issued by the state department at the request of congressmen, who are acting for their constituents. They are for persons who are naturalized citizens, many of whom are afraid to go back without passports. Native-born Americans as a rule do not get passports when they go abroad. Representative McCreery, of Minnesota, has secured 40 passports for his constituents during the last five weeks, and in speaking of this said:

"The district is purely agricultural, but the people are well-to-do, and hundreds of them will go abroad this year. Two-thirds of those getting passports originally came from across the water, and are going back to visit the old homes and relatives. They have prospered in this country and are able to spare the money for a trip.

"They own splendid homes and sections of land, are beyond want, and find times prosperous enough to spare money for a trip abroad. Many of them are taking their families."

The Golden Rule in Texas.

When men learn to do unto others as they would have others do unto them, horse trading will have become one of the lost arts.—Galveston News.

ENGLISH TELEPHONE SERVICE

It Is the Worst in the World and the Prices Are Extortionate.

In the matter of telephones England is probably worse served than any civilized country in the world, says the National Review. Switzerland or Sweden can give her points. A telephone monopoly was created, which has worked badly. Quarrels of all kinds with the local authorities have arisen as to way leaves.

I know a factory six miles from the Marble Arch which has, owing to this cause, for years been vainly applying for the telephone. The other day I wished to send a message to a friend in a very busy little town 15 miles from London. The place did not appear in the telephone directory. Yet in Sweden or Switzerland the smallest village is on the telephone.

As for the prices charged by the company, they are extortionate. Parliament has considered the situation, but as party government is mainly concerned with making laws which are not wanted and neglecting all that conduces to real progress, no adequate measures have been taken to right the system.

TELEGRAPH MEN HAVE TRIALS

Their Work in the Philippines Is Beset by Many Hardships and Dangers.

A Kansas man who is with the United States telegraph corps in the Philippines in a letter home tells of the difficulties which the corps encounters. Recently two big army wagons, each drawn by six mules, were loaded with rubber insulated wire, a battery and a reel to reel it out, keeping up with the troops. The road became so bad they had to strap the reel on a mule's back and the rest of the wire on other mules, leaving the wagon in the mud up to the hubs.

One mule carried the folding field telegraph table, with instruments all attached. Every few miles they would stop and telegraph back to Manila the progress of the column. To do so they would take the table off the mule, unfold it, cut the wire from the reel on the other mule, connect it with the instruments and do the necessary telegraphing. This was generally done when the troops stopped for a few minutes to rest.

The Proper Thing.

Nodd—Awfully sorry to hear your house burned down. Did you save anything?

Todd—Oh, yes. After some very lively work we succeeded in getting out all the things we didn't want.—Brooklyn Life.

Her Ruling Passion.

"What a queer-looking man Miss Kerflip married!"

"Did you never hear about it? She met him one day when she was out shopping, and he was such an odd pattern of a man that he caught her fancy at once."—Chicago Tribune.

Gardening in Alaska.

Two American women conducting a mission school on the Yukon, 1,500 miles from its mouth, tested the Alaska climate last year in kitchen gardening, beginning operations in the open ground May 16. In spite of a lack of rain for two months and cold storms in midsummer, they harvested 250 bushels of potatoes, 500 cabbages, 80 bushels of turnips and a few bushels of carrots. The strawberry bed set out grew finely, but the crop of berries was destroyed by mice.

Like Our Civil War.

One of the strangest facts regarding the present war is that English and Boer have so intermarried in South Africa that in countless instances brothers are fighting against brothers, and fathers against their own sons.

Growing Purchases Abroad.

The United States imported more merchandise last year from every quarter of the globe than it took in 1898.

Serious Ills of Women

WE CURE STRICTURE

Thousands of young and middle-aged men are troubled with this disease—many unconsciously. They may have a smarting sensation, small, twisting stream, sharp cutting pains at times, slight discharge, difficulty in commencing, weak organs, emissions, and all the symptoms of nervous debility—they have STRICTURE. Don't let doctors experiment on you, by cutting, stretching, or tearing you. This will not cure you, as it will return. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT absorbs the stricture tissue; hence removes the stricture permanently. It can never return. No pain, no suffering, no detention from business by our method. The sexual organs are strengthened. The nerves are invigorated, and the bliss of manhood returns.

WE CURE GLEET

Thousands of young and middle-aged men are having their sexual vigor and vitality continually sapped by this disease. They are frequently unconscious of the cause of these symptoms. General Weakness, Unnatural Discharges, Failing Manhood, Nervousness, Poor Memory, Irritability, at times Smarting Sensation, Sunken Eyes, with dark circles, Weak Back, General Depression, Lack of Ambition, Varicocele, Shrunken Parts, etc. GLEET and STRICTURE may be the cause. Don't consult family doctors, as they have no experience in these special diseases—don't allow Quacks to experiment on you. Consult Specialists, who have made a life study of Diseases of Men and Women. Our NEW METHOD TREATMENT will positively cure you. One thousand dollars for a case we accept for treatment and cannot cure. Terms moderate for a cure.

The National Convention of the Middle-of-the-road Populists is in session at Cincinnati.

Dr John H. Girdner of New York is named as a possible candidate for Vice President on the Democratic ticket with Bryan.

Rev. Dr. Fishburn, a Presbyterian minister of Camden, N. J., has requested the ladies of his congregation to remove their hats in church, as they obstruct the view of persons sitting back of them.

Congressman Rufus K. Polk delivered an able speech in Congress on May 1st, on the subject of building the Nicaragua Canal. It fills nearly four pages of the Congressional Record, and is full of valuable statistics. He is in favor of the bill.

William C. Endicott died at his home in Boston on Sunday, from pneumonia following an attack of grip. He was Secretary of War during President Cleveland's first term. His wife was a daughter of George Peabody, the philanthropist, and his daughter is the wife of Joseph Chamberlain, the English Secretary of State for the colonies.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of Obediah B. Yocum, of Cleveland township, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff. Mr. Yocum needs no introduction to the voters of Columbia county. He is a farmer of the thrifty type, fully up to the requirements of the office for which he is aspiring, and if elected, will make a good official.

WHAT A PROMINENT AGRICULTURIST SAYS:

To the citizens of Columbia county:

If the farmers and industrial people of our Commonwealth desire to have a voice in the next Legislature upon the important subject of revising the tax laws so as to relieve the home owners from unjust discriminations, they must act now, as those who have profited by the discrimination are already in the field to dominate the political conventions in the selection of men favorable to their interests.

The farmers and real estate owners of our Commonwealth earnestly desire that the citizens of Columbia county return to the Legislature that able and earnest indefatigable worker for the agricultural and industrial interests, the Hon. W. T. Creasy.

If we expect to succeed in having the tax laws of our state fairly revised, we must send to the Legislature the men whom we know will stand by the rights of the people.

Mr. Creasy having served several terms in the Legislature eminently qualifies him for a legislator, and will place him where he can render the most eminent service in the interests of the home owners of our Commonwealth.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, May 7, 1900.

Does the administration really favor the Nicaragua Canal? In view of the known condition of public sentiment, that question may sound odd, but there were things said in the debate which preceded the passing of the Nicaragua Canal bill by the House which made it pertinent. Representative Hepburn, of Iowa, who was in charge of the bill, had a sensational row with representative Cannon, of Ill., a man close to the administration, whom he charged with working in the interest of the Panama Canal ring, in trying to defer action on the bill. Representative Burton, of Ohio, also a man close to the administration, made a speech against naming the route of the canal in the bill. These things were enough to arouse the suspicion that the administration was not acting in good faith, and there were others. It is said that the failure of the Canal Commission to make a preliminary report was owing to a hint from the administration. Perhaps Boss Hanna thinks of working the Panama Canal Company for a big campaign contribution. At any rate, it is well known that the bill just passed by the House will not be acted upon by the Senate at this session.

Capt. Chadwick has found out that the protection extended to Rear Admiral Sampson by the administration does not include all of Sampson's friends. Secretary Long's letter reprimanding Chadwick—the second time within a year for the same offense—published this week, for slurring at Rear Admiral Schley, was about as stinging a document as was ever sent by a Secretary of the Navy to an officer; but the universal verdict is that Chadwick got no more than he deserved.

Senator Sewell, of N. J., has more nerve than most of the republican Senators on the trust question. His republican colleagues work for the trusts on the quiet, but he had the audacity to say in a speech on the floor of the Senate that the Standard Oil trust and the Sugar trust were public benefactors. A few more benefactors like them and there will be no more trusts. Benefactions of the sort they bestow contain the germs of revolution. Senator Pettigrew presented figures showing that neither of the trusts named by Mr. Sewell had done anything which was not directed toward the crushing out of competition and the increase of their own profits

From every direction comes the strongest evidence that the republicans have a hard fight before them. Nobody realizes this any better than Boss Hanna, and he is frank enough to say so. That there is a general revolt against the policies and practices of the McKinley administration, is certain, although its strength is as yet uncertain. Mr. H. J. Jackson, a business man of Fall River Mass., has been showing his Washington friends a letter written him by a prominent citizen of Massachusetts, from which the following is quoted: "From this distance it looks as though the game of national politics is going to be a hard one for President McKinley to play this year. The coming of the Boer emisaries seems likely to stir up a hornet's nest among the Irishmen and the German-Dutch sympathizers of the Boers in this country. The longer the war continues the stronger the American sentiment seems to grow against England." Mr. Jackson says of the political outlook: "The republicans are going to have trouble in New England. There are a great many causes to which this can be attributed." Yes, and they are going to have trouble in all the other sections of the country, and they are only going to get what they deserve.

The United States Supreme Court after spending two days hearing arguments in the Kentucky case, took a recess until May 14, when the decision will probably be made public.

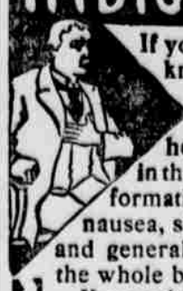
INDIGESTION



If you have it, you know it. You know all about the heavy feeling in the stomach, the formation of gas, the nausea, sick headache, and general weakness of the whole body.

You can't have it a week without your blood being impure and your nerves all exhausted. There's just one remedy for you——

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

There's nothing new about it. Your grandparents took it. 'Twas an old Sarsaparilla before other sarsaparillas were known. It made the word "Sarsaparilla" famous over the whole world.

There's no other sarsaparilla like it. In age and power to cure it's "The leader of them all."

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Ayer's Pills cure constipation.

"After suffering terribly I was induced to try your Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles and now feel like a new man. I would advise all my fellow creatures to try this medicine, for it has stood the test of time and its curative power cannot be excelled." I. D. GOOD,
Jan. 30, 1899. Browntown, Va.

Off to the Wooded Hills.

Several weeks since the Philadelphia Sunday Times presented its readers with a magnificent lithograph, in 12 colors, by Le Roy. The demand for the issue exceeded the supply by many thousand copies. The Times has secured another painting—a companion piece to the first—by the same artist, entitled "A Blooming Clematis," which is now being lithographed in 12 colors, and which will be given away free with the Great Outing Number of the Times, Sunday, May 13.

Sheet music is issued regularly with the Sunday Times. On May 13 "Tripping O'er the Hills," by W. S. Milton, regulation sheet music, with beautifully colored title page, will be given free in connection with the handsome lithograph. Place your order early and you get

A Statement From the Century Club.

The result of the efforts of the Century Club, for the benefit of the Public Library Fund, on April 17th, is given in detail below. It may interest the public to know that two thousand stockings were sent out in town. The following verse and poem were received with stockings:

"I find your stockings quite too small,
So I return it, garter and all.
The fact is, I would have been exceedingly tall,
If it had not been for my feet."

"Your library scheme
Comes back like a dream,
But where I had heard
The magical word,
I declare I can't tell.

But Franklin once said,
'Take care of the pence,
And as for the pounds,
Let them look to themselves,'
And the saying is well.

So here goes to the pence,
You look to the pounds,
And your library scheme
May not end as a dream,
And all may be well."

AMOUNT RECEIVED:

Ice cream and cake	$20 55
Fancy articles	30 85
339 stockings	67 15
	$118 55
Expenses	15 40	$103 15

The balance of $103.15 has been paid to Mrs Carlton A. Caswell, Gen'l Treas. Public Library Fund

SARAH E. I. VAN TASSEL,

Prove This Store By its Printed Promises.

That is what might be called taking high grounds, but it's safe ground. It wins business friendship, and business friendship is what we are after. When a community swears by a store, and that store strains every effort to sustain the good opinion of its public, there is bound to be a firm business friendship between them. Again we say prove this store by its printed promises.

Wash Waist Promises.

We promise you some excellent values in excellent waists. They are Munson's waists, and you know, if you have ever tried them, that they fit, and are made as nice as you can make them yourself. White and colors. Price, 98c to $2 75.

Dainty Under-Muslins.

The ready to wear is the wanted nowadays. These, with no sewing worry, are just as you would order or have them made at home, at two-thirds the cost. We have opened a new lot again this week. We have never offered better value.

THE COLUMBIAN.

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1900.

Wanted!

We want 500 new subscribers to the COLUMBIAN this spring and as a special inducement will include the Farm Journal from now until Dec., 1904, free.

Or the New York Thrice a week World for three months free.

Or the COLUMBIAN and World one year for $1.50. tf

Pay Up and Get Both Papers at Price of one.

We want to get 500 new subscribers to our paper, and are going to do it if we can; we therefore continue our arrangement with the Farm Journal by which we can send THE COLUMBIAN one year and the Farm Journal 5 years, both for $1. And we make the same offer to all old subscribers who will pay all arrearages and one year in advance.

You know what our paper is, and the Farm Journal is a gem—practical, progressive—a clean, honest, useful paper—full of gumption, full of sunshine, with an immense circulation among the best people everywhere. YOU OUGHT TO TAKE IT.

Legal advertisements on pages 6 and 7.

Leases and notices to quit, for sale at this office. tf.

Wyoming Seminary and Normal will play ball on Normal Field tomorrow afternoon. The up-river outfit this year is reputed to be quite strong, and as there is considerable rivalry between the two teams a good game is promised.

The D. L. & W. officials' private engine, "Comet," with Superintendent A. C. Salisbury, A. B. Vaughn, agent at Scranton, and A. W. Baker, auditor of the coal department, passed down the road Tuesday. On its return it stopped here for a few minutes.

Walter Trappe will leave in a few days for Eagles Mere, where he has secured a good position. He has been looking after the fire alarm system since its inception about a year ago. His departure will make the position vacant. Notwithstanding the fact that the job is a small one, with but little compensation, there are no less than four or five applicants for it.

There will be a concert in the A. M. E. church of Bloomsburg, Pa., on Thursday night, May 10, 1900. It is to be a grand affair. All that may attend will have a good time. Refreshments in abundance will be had. Admission: Adults, 10 cents Children 5 cents. All are invited and will be made welcome. Proceeds for A. M. E. Church. Doors open at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

The Farm Journal is the boiled down, hit-the-nail-on-the-head paper, cut to fit the farmer and villager who know what's what. The Farm Journal for nearly five years (remainder of 1900, and all of 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904), and the COLUMBIAN one year, will both be sent to every new subscriber to our paper, and to every old subscriber who pays one year ahead. Walk right up to the captain's office.

H. A. McKillip's law offices, in the COLUMBIAN Building, have been newly papered and painted. He has a handsome suite of rooms.

S. R. Bidleman is prepared to show new patterns of wall paper for 1900, at the lowest prices. He has the agency for the only wall paper factory that is not included in the Trust. tf.

C. F. Mann, for the past ten years agent for the B. & S. R. R. Company, at Benton, has resigned, and his place has been filled by the appointment of Frank L. Klase, of this town.

William Chrisman has announced his intention not to be a candidate for the Legislature. This leaves the field on the north side to Fred Ikeler, Geo. W. Sterner, R. G. F. Kshinka, and A. P. Young.

Boyd Evans, of the Bloomsburg Store Company's clerical force, has purchased a horse from Dr. M. J. Hess. The erection of a stable, on the rear of his property, on East street, is now occupying "Jake's" spare time.

G. W. Correll, W. M. Reber. F. W. Redeker, Samuel McKamey, J. R. Montgomery, W. J. Correll and Mathew McReynolds compose the new board of directors of the North Branch Furniture Company. They were elected at the annual meeting held last week.

An entertainment will be given at the Parish House on Saturday evening, May 26th, under the direction of Miss Grace Corell. Among other pleasing numbers will be solos by Signorina Ravi and Miss Bowman. Further particulars will be given next week.

If interested in horses, cows or sheep, take the Farm Journal. It is a wonderfully good little paper, and you ought to take it. We can send the COLUMBIAN one year and the Farm Journal nearly five years (remainder of 1900, and all of 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904), all for $1.00. This only to new and old subscribers who pay in advance. Pay up.

Death came peacefully to Miss Ada Vial, at her home on Leonard street, Saturday. She had been an invalid for many years. The deceased was about twenty-one years of age. The funeral took place from the house Tuesday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. D. N. Kirkby, of St. Paul's Church, interment in Rosemont cemetery.

William T. Creasy was in town on Monday. He is a very busy man these days, giving much of his time to legislative matters that need attention at the next session. Mr. Creasy is recognized as a leader by Democrats all over the state, and his experience as a member has well fitted him for valuable service in the legislature. The two term rule in this case is not an inflexible one in this county. T. J. Vanderslice had three terms, and A. L. Fritz four.

Do you want a cheap bicycle? If so, go to Mercer's Drug & Book Store. You can get a fairly good wheel for a small amount of money. We have second-hand wheels as follows: One Reading Reliable, $8.50; one Record, $7.50; one Columbia, $13.50; one Crescent, $12.00; one no name, $9.00; one ladies' Ben Hur pattern, $12.00; one ladies' Commercial, new tires, $13.00; one Crescent Tandem, $24.00; one Norwood Tandem, as good as any $65.00 tandem on the market, at $37.50.

During the progress of the storm Tuesday evening lightning struck the chimney of O. W. Cherrington's double house on Park street, on the side occupied by Peter Hartzell. The current passed down into the dining room, out the door and across to the other side, occupied by Charles Ottman, where it set fire to the veranda, but was extinguished before any damage ensued. A little son of Mr. Hartzell, the occupant of the other side of the house, was burned about the face and leg by the lightning, and was terribly frightened.

An open meeting was held by the Royal Arcanum, in their hall, last Friday evening. A program of vocal music, by the male choir, a violin solo by Master Schwartz, selections on the graphophone, by Robert Dent, and recitations, by Mrs. J. L. Richardson, was well rendered and much enjoyed. Dr. Bouse, of Chambersburg, Deputy Grand Regent, Col. Farnsworth and D. P. Hunt, of Danville, were present and made interesting remarks. Light refreshments were served. The wives and daughters of many of the members were present. The Bloomsburg Council has nearly a hundred members.

Joseph Waterhouse was ground to pieces by a freight train at Muncy, Saturday afternoon. He arrived in Danville about two weeks ago from Philadelphia, and secured employment at C. C. Moyer's livery stable, Saturday morning he left for the home of his parents at Muncy. He was standing at the station with a few friends when a freight train came thundering along. In defiance of warnings he attempted to board it, missed the handle, and fell beneath the wheels. The remains were scattered along the track for a hundred yards or more. The deceased was 28 years old, and married. He was in Bloomsburg one evening last week.

You

need not lose flesh in summer if you use the proper means to prevent it. You think you can't take SCOTT'S EMULSION in hot weather, but you can take it and digest it as well in summer as in winter. It is not like the plain cod-liver oil, which is difficult to take at any time.

If you are losing flesh, you are losing ground and you need

BELLS WITH A HISTORY.

Career of the Famous Peal of St. Michael's in Charleston, South Carolina.

A peal of bells that has had as adventurous a career as any that hang in old world towers is the famous peal of St. Michael's, Charleston, S. C. Five times have these bells crossed the sea, once as a heap of ruined metal, and two armies have they had to encounter or escape; yet to-day the nine bells are of unusual purity and sweetness of tone, says Youth's Companion.

Cast in England before the revolution, and brought over to St. Michael's, they met with their first danger in that war. That they might not be injured, they were sent back to England. After the war was over the people of Charleston wanted them, and it became the duty of the first American minister to England to negotiate for them. He was successful, and amidst triumphant ovations they were escorted to the church.

All went well with them till the civil war. Then the steeple of St. Michael's was made the target for the cannon of the besiegers. It was necessary to remove the bells to a safer place, and they were sent to Columbia. When Sherman's army took Columbia, the sheds in the yard of the state house, in which the bells had been placed, were broken into and the bells smashed into fragments, while the sheds were set on fire.

They were not yet done for, however. At the close of the war the pieces were carefully gathered together and shipped to Liverpool, together with extracts from the records of St. Michael's, showing where the bells were cast and the proportion of metals forming the component parts.

Upon inquiry it was found that the firm of bell founders that had cast the bells was still in existence, unchanged in name, and consisting of the descendants of the original firm. The records of the firm contained an account of the casting of the bells, and the proportions corresponded with those in the St. Michael's records.

Under such favorable circumstances it was not hard to recast the bells. Then for the fifth time they crossed the Atlantic and arrived safely in Charleston.

Col. Jack Chinn Tells Why Kentuckians Prefer That Style at Present.

State Senator Frank W. Maynard, of New Hampshire, has returned to his home in Nashua from Louisville, Ky., where he attended the national convention of the Merchant Tailors' national exchange, says the Boston Globe. He arrived in Kentucky just after the shooting of Mr. Goebel and witnessed the excitement which followed. During his stay in Louisville he was introduced to Col. Jack Chinn, and he tells an amusing story of their meeting.

"We were introduced," said Senator Maynard, "by mutual friends, and I noticed that Col. Chinn extended his left hand to me. At the time I thought it a bit queer, but after I saw him do the same thing with several other men I came to the conclusion that he was left-handed. Perhaps my face indicated my surprise at the manner of shaking hands, for he turned to me a few minutes later and remarked:

"'You have noticed, perhaps, that I shake hands with my left hand? Well, we have grown accustomed to that during the past few days. You see, we like to keep our right hands close to our pistol pockets just now.'"

INSENSIBLE TO PAIN.

Animals Do Not Feel the Whip as Keenly as Do Human Beings.

If it is true that animals feel pain less than men, then it is also true that tortures and cruelties sometimes inflicted upon animals if administered to men would be unbearable to the point almost of insanity or death. The most sensitive part of the human frame is the skin, and while this is true relatively of animals it is certain also that the skin of dogs or other animals is not so sensitive as that of man. Besides, the animal's skin is protected by a coat of insensitive hair. In the case of surgical operations on men reaching, for instance, to the abdominal cavity, it is the incision into the cavity that requires the taking of anaesthetics, and not so much the work to be done after the cavity is opened. After serious operations upon animals which have been placed under chloroform it frequently happens that a few minutes after recovering consciousness the animals frisk about the room, sometimes jumping from the floor to the operating table.

DEWEY FAVORS THEM.

Believes That with Submarine Boats Enemy Could Have Kept Him Out of Manila Bay.

Representative Foss, acting chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, has received from Admiral Dewey a copy of a memorandum prepared by that officer's aide, Lieut. H. L. Caldwell, upon the recent tests of the Holland submarine torpedo boat. Admiral Dewey, it is understood, indorsed the report of his aide, who expresses the belief that a determined enemy, with submarine boats of the Holland type, could have made impossible the occupation of Manila bay by the admiral's squadron.

The expression of opinion made by the admiral was in response to a request from the senate and house naval committees, which, before determining upon the action to take upon pending bills, desired to learn the admiral's views.

TO SUCCEED WATSON.

Admiral George C. Remey Appointed Commander of the Asiatic Station of the Navy.

Admiral George C. Remey, who has been assigned to succeed Admiral Watson as commander of the Asiatic station, is an old sailor, who served in the union navy during the civil war and who was very useful to the department during the recent war with Spain. He is an Iowa man and was appointed from that state to the naval academy at Annapolis in 1855. When the civil war began he was commissioned a lieutenant of the gunboat Marblehead in the South Atlantic blockading squadron. He was present at the siege of Yorktown and on several occasions engaged the batteries at long range. His ship was disabled just before the battle at West Point, Va., and the lieutenant was forced to witness the action as a mere looker-on. He fought at Sullivan's Island, Battery Wagner, Fort Sumter and Fort Wagg. After the war the customary shifting life of the naval officer in times of peace fell to his lot. In 1885 he was made a captain and placed in charge of the Charleston squadron of evolution. The Spanish war and the many changes in the navy that followed it brought Remey up to the rank of Admiral.

ADMIRAL GEORGE C. REMEY.
(Just Assigned to the Command of the Asiatic Station.)

THE ELECTRIC FAN.

It Has a Promising Outlook for the Future in the Lands Beyond the Seas.

The fan-motor is a peculiarly American invention. It made its appearance upon the scene about 14 years ago and met with immediate and hearty approval. During the few years of its history it has been rapidly improved and has now reached a state of high perfection, says the Electrical Review.

Certainly the man who first thought of making a little breeze machine was a public benefactor. The amount of discomfort that has been relieved by the familiar whizzing fan is almost incalculable and there can be no doubt that it has really prolonged and doubtless saved many lives. It is strange that in countries where the climate is more oppressive in the summer months than it is even in the United States there should not be a more widespread use of these fans. The new eastern possessions of the United States and the vast area beyond should open a large market to American manufacturers of such goods. The punkah has been in use in India from time immemorial, but its days are certainly numbered if the silent, efficient American electric fan ever becomes fashionable in that country.

Paving the Way.

She (sweetly)—Let me see, how long—eight years, isn't it, darling, since we were married?

He (proudly condescending)—Yes, dear.

She (still sweetly)—And do you know darling, that I love you more and more, if possible, every year?

He (suspicious)—Uh-huh! Um-m! Yes, a new mantle or a new bonnet? —Tit-Bits.

Pretty Hands,

Hands delicately moulded and daintily white are among the chief of woman's charms. When such hands are marred by eruptions, their very beauty draws attention to the repulsive disease. Humors which break out on the body begin in the blood. Soaps and salves may cover up a humor but they can't cure it. There is a cure for salt-rheum and other eruptive diseases, caused by a corrupt condition of the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures these diseases perfectly and permanently. It carries off the poisons which cause disease. It makes the blood pure and rich. It increases the quantity of the blood supply by increasing the action of the blood making glands. It makes the skin white and clear by making the blood pure.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

"I write to tell you the benefit I have received from your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' after having suffered for three years with salt-rheum," writes Miss Bertha Peters, of Lulu, Monroe Co., Mich. "The humor was on my hands, and I had been treated by our home physician who did not help me. After I began the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I took seven bottles, and can now say with pleasure that I am cured. Nobody knows the intense pain I have suffered. I could not sleep at night, the stinging, burning, and itching sensation would be so bad, sometimes I could hardly bear it. I thank you for your kind advice."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery" when there is constipation.

BE INDEPENDENT.

You can tell just as well as a physician whether your kidneys are diseased or healthy. Fill a tumbler with urine and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, discolored or pale; if it is ropy or stringy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and you do not need a physician to tell you so.

Kidney diseases should be attended to at once, for almost 90 per cent. of our unexpected deaths of to-day are from that cause. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the only sure cure known for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation It is marvelous how it stops that pain in the back, relieves the necessity of urinating so often at night, drives away that scalding pain in passing water, corrects the bad effects of whiskey and beer and shows its beneficial effects on the system in an incredibly short time. It is sold by all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

If you would like to test Favorite Remedy free of all charge, send your full name and postoffice address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., and a free trial bottle, together with a pamphlet of valuable medical advice, will be sent you by return and postpaid, providing you mention the COLUMBIAN when you write.

The publisher of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this liberal offer.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price, including the spraying tube, is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a natural and healthy character Ely Brothers, 66 Warren street, New York.

CURIOUS WHEAT PROBLEM.

According to This Computation Scarcity of Food Is Not by Any Means Remote.

If Sir William Crookes is to be believed, scarcity of food is not by any means remote: it may come within sight of persons now alive, and these not very young, says the London Spectator. The case may be very easily stated. At present the deficiencies of the wheat-eating countries are supplied by North America, especially by the United States. In 1897-8 the wheat crop of the United States was about 540,000,000 bushels. Of this quantity 217,000,000 bushels were exported to Europe, where no country, excepting Russia and Turkey, grows enough for its own population. The states are able to do this without trenching on the home supply, because the total population is not more than 75,000,000. In 1931, if the increase of population goes on at the same rate as that of the last 30 years, the 75,000,000 will have increased to 130,000,000, and the surplus for export will be no longer available.

Whence, therefore, will the wants of the world be supplied? Russia at present exports largely, the total being something more than two-fifths of that from the states. But it cannot be hoped that Russia will come to the rescue of a hungry world. It is already hungry itself, exporting food while its own people are starving. Any change here must be in the way of distribution. This change will be the more speedy because the Russian population, in spite of its sufferings, increases. Indeed, the difficulty of the general problem is aggravated by the fact that, up to the point of actual starvation, scarcity not only does not check, but actually stimulates, the rate of increase. A perfectly well-fed, well-educated and generally comfortable population has a tendency to diminish rather than to grow.

HUMAN FREAKS.

Various Accomplishments Attained by Men and Women Without Arms.

There is nothing new under the sun, especially in the way of human freaks. The case of the late Charles Francois Fleu, the armless Belgian artist, recently deceased, was no exception, says the Philadelphia Press. Camerarius, over three centuries ago, knew a man born armless who ate and drank with the help of his feet and wrote fair and straight copies in Latin and German. He tells of another who could use a sword and throw javelins with his feet, and who was broken on the wheel for murder.

Magdalene Rudolph Thuinly says Bartholin "with her feet spins and threads her needle; she weaves, she charges and discharges a gun; with a scissors and a knife she cuts paper into divers artificial figures; she plays at tables and dice, she knows how to bring her feet to her breast and head so as to take her child to breast." Scaliger tells a similar tale of one Antonius.

Then there was a woman of Britain who was forced to use her mouth and tongue in spinning, threading a needle, tying knots and writing. Pictorius Villinganus relates that he knew an armless Spaniard who could with an ax give a blow that would cut a reasonably-sized bit of wood asunder at one blow.

START OF THE FEUD.

Senator Clark Had to Pay Marcus Daly Eighty Thousand Dollars for a Stream.

"Gus" Schmidt tells this story in connection with the trouble of Senator Clark, of Montana, who is bitterly pursued by Marcus Daly, says the Indianapolis Press:

"The start of this feud dates from their early mining days when Clark was dependent on the water from a small stream for the successful working of his mines. Daly bought the water right for $35,000 and compelled Clark to pay $80,000 for its use.

"A further item, which goes to show Clark's luck, or pluck, is that a prominent western smelting company was financially embarrassed, and as it was at a time of panic the company could not obtain ready money. Clark examined its books, and, finding them in good condition, took $100,000 stock in the company. In going over the books he noticed a carload of ore once in awhile that was exceedingly rich, and made inquiry of the name of the mine from which the ore came. He was told, and went to the mine dressed as a miner and hired himself out to the four young men who owned it, and went to work as a miner. After seeing the wealth of the mine he bought it for $200,000, and this mine is now making him millions."

Judge and Dancing Master.

An English paper tells of a Greek judge who took it into his head to learn to dance. He is an elderly man, and in spite of all his efforts he only succeeded in getting out of breath, so at last the dancing master lost patience and told his pupil that he was incapable of learning. The judge therefore went to law, and got the following verdict in his favor: "Seeing that a man who has no physical defects is not unfit to be taught to dance, the professor is hereby condemned to continue his lessons until his pupil is proficient." The willing magistrate and the unwilling dancing master have therefore set to work again.

Business of Bank of France.

The Bank of France last year discounted in Paris 2,101,830 separate bills for less than 100 francs each.

Who Eats It All?

The world annually produces something like 3,000,000 tons of butter and cheese.

When a boy turns his bulging pocket inside out we marvel at the quantity and variety of articles he has stowed away. Odd lengths of string, marbles, a horse chestnut, a top, brass nails, hickory nuts, an apple, and many more articles are garnered by this "snapper up of unconsidered trifles." We think the collection must be hard on a boy's pocket, and it is. But do we ever think of the variety and miscellany of the substances we put into the pocket of our stomach? There's the apple and the nuts, and things besides quite as indigestible as brass nails and with no more food value than so many marbles. And yet we wonder that the stomach "gives out." When the stomach breaks down under the strain of careless eating and irregular meals it can be perfectly and permanently restored to health and strength by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The action of this medicine on the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition is so marked, that relief from disease is at once experienced, and the headaches, liver "troubles," kidney disorders, skin eruptions and other symptoms of a diseased stomach are quickly cured. Whenever the use of a laxative medicine is indicated, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They act in harmony with the "Discovery" and assist its action by purging the bowels of foul accumulations.

TREASURER'S SALE OF UNSEATED AND SEATED LANDS IN COLUMBIA COUNTY, PA.

By virtue of Sundry Acts of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating to the sale of seated and unseated lands in the county of Columbia etc., for taxes due and unpaid I will offer at Public Sale in the Court House in the town of Bloomsburg, on at 10 o'clock a. m. the following described pieces of land or such part thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount of taxes due and unpaid against the same and continue the same from day to day as the same may be found necessary.

TERMS OF SALE.

The amount of taxes and costs must be paid when the land is struck down or off or the sale may be void and the property put up and resold.

ORANGEVILLE.

decree to organize the borough, and at an election held February 20, the following persons were chosen to fill the several offices: Burgess, A. B. Herring; Justice of the Peace, H. J. Conner and James B. Harman; Councilmen, C. J. Megargell, 1 yr., J. B. Montgomery, 1 yr., C. B. White, 2 yrs., J. B. Delong, 2 yrs., Geo. S. Fleckenstine, 3 yrs., Ranslow Fister, 3 yrs., J. W. Conner, 3 yrs.; School Directors, Dr. G. L. Jolly and L. C. Williams, 1 year; H. B. Low, Geo. M. D. Herring, 2 years; E. H. Sloan, Levi Fry, 3 years.

High Constable, Amos Neyhard; Constable, D. T. Keller; Registry Assessor, E. W. Coleman; Tax Collector, O. P. Delong; Auditors, J. W. Hidlay, Geo. G. Jones, A. M. Dewitt.

Poor Overseers, I. K. Dildine, A. W. Eveland; Judge of Election, D. P. Unger; Inspectors, Robert Bardo, Harrison Brewer.

The place for holding the township election was changed to Bowman's Mills.

The borough contains about 500 inhabitants, and about 100 residences. A number of well-considered ordinances have been passed by the council, and when the machinery is put in complete running order, Orangeville will no doubt be a model municipal corporation. C. B. White is President of the Borough Council, and Clinton Herring, Secretary.

(From our Correspondent.)

Orangevilleites are lately pricking up their ears. The word is being passed along the line that a great discovery has been made of valuable mineral. This will make some of the inhabitants carry their chins higher than formerly. It is to be hoped that their highest anticipations may be realized. As I happen to be on the wrong side of the creek, I do not expect to derive any direct benefit from their newly found treasure. But I am always ready to rejoice with those who do rejoice, etc.

Orangeville be it known has lately become an incorporated town, a fact that should redound to their benefit. Mining districts frequently bring together some of the rougher class of society. As a borough they will be better prepared to deal with that element. As I am no prophet I shall not attempt to predict what may be the result of their newly acquired dignity as a borough or of their mineral wealth. Either of these or both together may result in producing in some of them what is called the big head. I do not know exactly what that is, as I have never been troubled with it, but from the manner in which I hear it spoken of, I presume it is something we do well to avoid. A little history of the town dating back half a century or more may be interesting to some of the younger generation.

The town has not grown very rapidly in wealth or population, but there has been a decided improvement in what tends to good morals. There is still room for improvement. Whether its mineral wealth or corporate power will make things better or worse remains to be seen.

I first passed through the above named village about fifty-three years ago. It then contained four hotels and two churches. The hotels have been diminished by one, the churches have been increased by a like number. Herein consists the improvement in what tends to good morals. The number of increase or decrease does not fairly represent the case. They have more preaching in either church, the preacher is better paid, and money is contributed for missionary work in other less favored districts. At the time of which I write there was a distillery in full blast, which furnished whiskey for home consumption and helped supply other places with the stuff.

There have been other changes in the village. The inhabitants are not the same. There is but one man now living in the village who was a man living there at the time above mentioned. William Fisher is the oldest of the original inhabitants, perhaps the oldest man in the town, but he is not the largest.

Rickets, Stewart, Covanhovan, Lazarus and some others who were amongst builders up of the town and filled prominent places in it, are all gone. There are but few representatives of the above named families.

Orangeville is well supplied with stores presided over by men in whom the public have confidence. They have dealers in coal, fertilizers and railroad ties. Conner has facilities for supplying the community with all kinds of agricultural implements. In fact the town is as nearly independent of the outside world as a town of its size can well be.

The township surrounding the town is peopled in the main by well to do citizens. The older ones of them are all gone. Wesley Bowman and Joseph Crawford are perhaps the oldest residents of the township. The town has one older resident than the one I named, Nathan Fleckenstine. Those three have I believe, each rounded out the four score years.

When I first knew the township, the older members of the Kline, Welsh, Patterson, Achenbach, and Vance families were active citizens, now their descendants are many of them gray and bald-headed. When we think about the number who have left us, and see every thing moving on as usual, we can make up our minds as to how much we will be missed when our turn comes to leave. C.

Masked burglars entered the house of Alfred Irvin, in Hemlock township, Thursday night last, and after silencing the members of the household, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin, and two hired men, by means of a gag, proceeded upstairs in search of money. They returned in a few minutes empty-handed, and after quizzing Mr. Irvin, concerning a sale of land, which, they thought he had made, discovered that they had got into the wrong house, and apologizing for the intrusion, departed.

I. W. HARTMAN & SON, Bloomsburg, Pa.

A Ladies' Jacket, $3.95
All sizes—in grey, blue, brown and black—fly front and double breasted. Lined with Roman silk; all tailor made. $6 00 to $7 50 jackets for $3 95.

A Ladies' Suit, 6.95.
We have them in blue, black and brown, coat back and fly front: lined with Roman silk. The skirt is percaline lined and velveteen bound, made of good cloth. $6 95.

A Homespun Suit, 9.75
The cloth is grey and castor color. The quality is good. The jackets are lined all through with Roman silk satin, good quality. The jackets are cut with fly front, skirts are lined with percaline and velveteen bound; box plait back.

A Cheviot Suit, 9.75.
This is a good black cloth, neatly made: jackets lined all through with good Roman satin, fly front, coat back; skirts made very full; box plait back, percaline lined, velveteen bound.

A Wool Suit, 7.95.
All wool cloth suits, in grey and tan only. The jacket is lined all through with Roman silk; fly front and coat back, box plaited; skirt bound with velveteen and lined with percaline.

A Child's Jacket, 98c.
Pays better to buy a jacket than pay a doctor. Mothers, isn't that so? Children need jackets most all spring and summer mornings and evenings.

We've Cut the Price
On all children's coats to a lowness that will sell them. You'll know it when you see them. All colors, all sizes, many, many kinds. 25 to 33⅓ per cent. less than real value.

39c. Dress Goods.
Never before sold for less than 50c. Little checks and small figures, in a variety of colors, 38 inches wide, most of them all wool. Just a few with a little cotton in them, but they will wear better than all wool. They come in light, medium and dark colors; can be used for ladies' or children's dresses, or for separate skirts or waists. These goods are up to date in every respect, not a lot of old styles, but the latest and best the market affords. Per yard, 39c.

49c. Dress Goods.
These goods have been 59c to 65c a yard. They are cheviots, homespuns, serges, &c., in all the new shades of grey, blues and browns, and are this season's most popular wefts and styles. Just the thing for whole dresses or separate skirts. 59c to 69c goods at 49c.

69c. Dress Goods.
Cloths that have been up to a dollar per yard. Some in plain colors, others with a little color mixed in—in blue, green, brown, black and all shades of Covert—50 to 52 inches wide, and are good enough for tailor made suits. Some few of these are in 5-yard lengths, but many of them we sell as wanted. Goods that have been $1 00, now 69c.

A Homespun Suit, 7.95
They come in grey, castor or blue mixed cloth. Eton jackets, taffeta silk lined all through, velvet collar, fly front; skirt lined with percaline and velveteen bound; very full box plaited back.

A Cheviot Suit, $19.00.
These suits are all black, and the cloth and the black are extra good. The jackets are double breasted, the buttons are covered with best Mohair. Lined with best Taffeta silk, three rows stitched all around, coat back. Skirt, box plaited back, very full sweep, lined with black Taffeta, bound with velveteen.

A Venetian Suit, $13.50
This suit made of grey color Venetian cloth, quality extra good. Jackets lined with good grey color satin, four rows stitching around the jackets. It's a double-breasted Eton style, with silk braid loops, instead of button holes. Skirt lined with percaline, velveteen braid, box plaited back, stitched front. Match it, if you can, for $17.50.

A Kersey Suit, $14.75.
Kersey cloth, blue mixed and extra quality. Jacket, double-breasted Eton style, Taffeta silk lined, silk loops in place of button holes. Skirt, percaline lined, velveteen bound, box plait back, corded top plait. It's in the height of fashion and worth $25.00.
